Searching for Past Articles in the Poughkeepsie Journal (1999-present)

March 13, 2012

If a patron is looking for an article from the Poughkeepsie Journal newspaper that was published between 1999 and today, these are available by searching the 'archives' section of the website to obtain the citation, and then requesting a photocopy of the article from the Central Library Reference Department. We prefer to send articles through the MHLs delivery system, but can also mail them. Images and text can be badly degraded by faxing, so this is discouraged. In-library copies of microfilm cost .20 per page.

The articles can also be purchased online for $3.95 each, paid to the Poughkeepsie Journal, if instant delivery is needed.

The Poughkeepsie Public Library District maintains physical archives of the newspaper on microfilm dating back to 1785 with some gaps. Holdings are complete, by and large, from 1800 to present, though there is not an index to the older papers.

The screenshot shows the Poughkeepsie Journal website in a Windows Internet Explorer browser window. The address bar shows the URL: <http://www.poughkeepsiejournal.com/article/99999999/SERVICES/50924005>. The website header includes navigation links for News, Obituaries, Towns, Sports, Life, Enjoy!, Opinion, Business, and Help. A search bar is located in the top right, with the text "Hudson River PCBs" entered. A dropdown menu is open below the search bar, showing radio buttons for "News", "Archives", "Local Deals", and "Businesses & Services". The "Archives" option is selected. A red arrow points from a callout box to the "Archives" radio button. Another red arrow points from a second callout box to the search bar. The callout boxes contain the following text:

- Make sure you check the "Archives" radio button.
- Enter your search terms here.

The main content area of the page shows a "Customer Service" section with a "FILED UNDER" dropdown menu set to "Customer Service". Below this are links for "Services, contact information", "Archive" (with a sub-link "How to get past issues of the Poughkeepsie Journal."), "Subscriber Services", and "Classified advertising rates". A sidebar on the right features three article teasers: "51-Year-Old Now Looks 27 Again!", "New Policy in New York", and "Poughkeepsie: Mom Makes Botox Doctors Furious".

River's backyard neighbors fear dredging

The Poughkeepsie Journal - Poughkeepsie, N.Y.

Author: Dan Shapley, Lee Ferris
Date: Jan 11, 2002
Start Page: A-1
Section: PAGE1
Text Word Count: 1135

Abstract (Document Summary)

In three years, the river here likely will be dominated by dredging equipment, if the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency stays on schedule with its plan to dredge 150,000 pounds of PCBs from a 40-mile stretch of the Hudson that begins just north of Carner's home, and continues south to Troy. Environmentalists and many residents farther south support dredging as a way to clean the river of PCBs, or polychlorinated biphenyls.
