Nifty Mouse Tricks

October 30, 2012

We looked at scroll zooming for increasing screen images back in May, but this resource covers so many more cool features. We had to share it with you all!!

Even just learning for the first time that double clicking highlights a single word, and that triple clicking highlights an entire paragraph is pretty exciting, but there are many more helpful uses of the mouse demonstrated in this short video clip!! Enjoy!

The screenshot shows a Windows Internet Explorer browser window with the address bar displaying <http://news.yahoo.com/blogs/upgrade-your-life/hidden-powers-mouse-164928637.html>. The page title is "Hidden Powers of Your Mouse | Upgrade Your Life - Yahoo! News". The article is by Becky Worley, dated Wednesday, October 3, 2012. It features a video player with a play button and a progress bar. Below the video, the text reads: "You use your mouse for just about everything: you drag, you drop, you highlight, you scroll. But even if you click your mouse a thousand times a day, I bet I've got a few secret mouse tricks you've never heard of." To the right of the article, there is a list of news items, including "CBS claims ratings win for 1st week of TV season", "NBC breaks TV losing streak, orders more 'Revolution'", and "Samsung, battling Apple verdict, cites foreman's Seagate lawsuit". The browser's taskbar at the bottom shows the Start button and several open applications, including "Hidden Powers of ..." and "TT Template (06-...". The system tray in the bottom right corner shows the date as Thursday, October 4, 2012, at 4:42 PM, and the battery level at 110%.
