October 31, 2017

It's Hudson Valley Restaurant Week!

For two weeks -- beginning October 30th -- over 200 Hudson Valley restaurants will offer specially designed, three-course lunch & dinner menus to highlight the diverse and vital dining experiences available right here in the Hudson Valley.

Support local businesses & explore a wide array of cuisines; try out a new restaurant you've been hearing about, or visit an old favorite to see what special menus they have cooked up. This year's theme is purple, so get excited about gorgeous purple cauliflower, eggplant, purple potatoes and so much more!

Reservations are strongly recommended, so visit here to choose by county, town, and/or cuisine to find the perfect dining experience, and book your table today.

After you decide where to go to dinner, be sure to explore the rest of the Valley Table's website for more ideas for local, seasonal dining & cooking all year long.

Get out there and see what the Valley has to offer!
