Turn Your Browser into a Notepad

February 5, 2019

Need a quick space to jot down some info from the internet? Copy the "URL" below and paste it to your browser's address bar to create a notepad browser page. Save it to your favorites tab and it becomes a convenient way to get a virtual scratch pad on the fly. It won't save the information once you close it but makes copying and pasting between pages very simple.

And here's a browser notepad I've opened to copy the ISBN's to...I also saved it to my favorites bar to access it quicker.

And then why not increase the font size using the magnifying glass (or hold down your control button and scroll up the mouse's wheel) to make reading a little bit easier?
