Mother’s Day is upon us again. Anna Jarvis organized the first Mother’s Day in the United States on May 10, 1908. It later became an official holiday nationwide. On May 8, 1914, President Woodrow Wilson signed a proclamation designating the second Sunday in May as Mother’s Day. The followings are resources about the history of Mother’s Day:

https://www.loc.gov/item/today-in-history/may-09/#celebrating-mothers https://guides.loc.gov/chronicling-america-mothers-day https://www.americaslibrary.gov/jb/jazz/jb_jazz_mother_1.html

https://www.loc.gov/resource/highsm.31593/

The document for President Woodrow Wilson’s Mother’s Day Proclamation of May 9, 1914 is as following:

https://www.archives.gov/historical-docs/todays-doc/?dod-date=509

Also you can find Fun Facts for Mother’s Day at the Census Bureau website.

Happy Mother’s Day!