New York State Senate Website  May 24, 2022

Midterms are coming this November and it’s never too early to get involved with your local politics. The New York State Senate website allows New Yorkers to see what’s going on in their district, find more information on the issues that matter to them, and keep up to date with news from the senate.

Website Link: https://www.nysenate.gov/

The website is divided into 5 sections:

- News & Issues allows you to keep track of the most recent news and announcements from the senate.
- Senators & Committees is where you can filter and search for senators by party, committee, and other legislative groups.
- Bills & Laws lets you browse current laws by subject matter and search for any changes that have been proposed by members of NYS government. It also features information on the how a bill becomes a law.
- The events page features a calendar where you can search for events by type of event, committee, senator, and date.
- About the Senate provides information including a description of the senate's operations and its history, the New York State Constitution and Senate rules, the New York State District Map, a list of student programs including internships and fellowships, and other ways to access information from the senate.
Users can also set up an account with the website in order to keep track of updates and follow politics in your area: https://www.nysenate.gov/registration/nojs/form/start
