LIBRARY DIRECTOR REPORT – JANUARY 2024

Significant Service Changes, Challenges or Accomplishments

- EOY/SOY: The Business Office continues to work on End of Year and Start of Year activity. The former is to properly closeout 2024 and prepare for the annual audit while the latter is to set the year up for successful financial processing. Both take considerable time and the department is experiencing an extended absence of one full-time employee. The Finance Manager, though, has everything under control!
- MUNIS/ERP: Under the leadership of the Finance Manager, the Library District has engaged with the vendor of our financial software to expand out use of it to include more fully developing the Human Resources Module. This work will be lead by the Human Resources Officer and will require considerable training. We received an investment assessment report, which details how to best processed in developing the HRM with the goal of having most of the module up and running by the end of the 3Q2025.
- Timekeeping Software Modifications: The Human Resources Officer has been developing new pay calculation profiles, which is the software design behind the timekeeping we have with UKG. This has been a complicated and time-consuming process that will better enable us to implement certain issues negotiated in the collective bargaining agreement as well as to streamline our understanding of how the software was designed. We have opted to do most of this work in-house so as to retain the knowledge and documentation that we currently don't have.
- Trustee Welcomes: This meeting marks that first for new trustees Mayra Fana (Town) and Shelia Newman (City). Both were elected in November 2024 to their first five-year term on the Board of Trustees. We also welcome the return of incumbent Patricia Ferrer, who was elected to her first five-year term.

MANAGER'S MONTHLY REPORT

Manager Name and Title: Alison Francis, Youth Outreach Coordinator Department: Youth Outreach Time Period of Report: Month of December 2024

Focus Activity: Rover visit to Boys and Girls Club

Intended Outcome(s) of Focus Activity: The Boys and Girls Club of Newburgh/Poughkeepsie invited us to their after school program at the Smith Street site to bring Rover for children ages K - grade 8 to look at and check out books as well as to learn about the Library's programs and services within the Youth Services department.

Manager Observations of Activity and Outcomes: Youth Services Librarian Liz Asta and I spent two hours with several groups of children varying in ages from Kindergarten to grade eight. We saw four groups of children for 30 minute sessions each during which we briefly talked about the Library and had kids visit the Rover collection, choose a book, and bring it inside to peruse. We also had a variety of crafts for them to do and library information about programs for their age groups.

Impact of Activity: Our visit was lively and successful. It gave the kids the opportunity to increase their awareness of resources at the Library and what they can access with their library cards.

They engaged with their peers sharing the books they had chosen as well as with the crafts. Boys and Girls Club supervisor Carl Acevedo was very pleased with our visit and plans to have us return in the future to this site as well as to the Krieger School program site.

MANAGER'S MONTHLY REPORT

Manager Name and Title: Beth Vredenburg Department: Branch and Extension Services Time Period of Report: December 2024/ January 2025

Focus Activity: Though there are many activities and projects in the works, Rover is the current focus of the department

Intended Outcome(s) of Focus Activity: Focus and evaluation of Rover activities for 2025

Manager Observations of Activity and Outcomes: Rover is ever evolving and morphing to fit with community needs. We continue to evaluate the current stops and effectiveness. We have begun streamlining coordination of outreach activities with timely and consistent communication.

Impact of Activity: Our monthly Rover meetings are an evaluative measure of current practice and statistics from Rover stops are helping to further define overall goals and expected outcomes for the use of Rover for 2025 and beyond.

MANAGER'S MONTHLY REPORT

Manager Name and Title: Kira Thompson, Head of Adult Services Department: Adult Services Time Period of Report: December 2024

Focus Activity: EOY Activity

Intended Outcome(s) of Focus Activity: Finalize collections purchases for the year, as well all outstanding invoices for 2024 submitted and paid before the close of the year.

Manager Observations of Activity and Outcomes: December is typically a quiet month for other library activities, but behind the scenes, we are working busily to make sure that Collections budget for the year are spent and all items purchased early in the month, in order to help the business office and technical services neatly receive and process all 2024 invoices and materials.

AS staff did their best to make sure the collections would be ready for 2025, as well as making sure all program and other supply vendors were paid for their time/services.

Impact of Activity: While this is always a somewhat fraught time for everyone involved in these tasks, I think better intra-departmental communication this year has helped facilitate the process.

From the prospective of our department, I think it went well, and the transition to the 2025 budget year was smooth and efficient. Many thanks to Rebecca & the Business Office, as well as Kristin & Technical Services, for communicating clear deadlines and manageable goals for all involved.

MANAGER'S MONTHLY REPORT

Manager Name and Title: Gary Killmer Network Analyst Department: Information Technology Time Period of Report: 12/01/2024 - 12/31/2024

Focus Activity: All of PPLDs Technology is up and running as expected. FLIP stats for 4th quarter 2024. 1,069 Images 594 photos 472 slides 3 negatives (120 mm) 24 Video 2 audio only 4 Hi8 15 miniDV 3 VHS, Replacement of Active Directory Server

Intended Outcome(s) of Focus Activity: ach of these activities provides better security or service to patrons or staff by upgrading software, and hardware, as well as an improved patron experience. Two Factor authentication Rollout was continuing Manager Observations of Activity and Outcomes: The deployment of the new active directory server was well done. Barely any noticeable impact to the end users during the deployment process, staff have been enabling themselves for 2FA. So far no reports of any great difficulty in getting it set up.

Impact of Activity: This new server provided with a reliable, fast and modern piece of hardware that will reside at Boardman Road and should serve us well for years to come. With the completion of 2FA fast approaching, our email security is being greatly increased.

MANAGER'S MONTHLY REPORT

Manager Name and Title: Michele Muir, Development Officer Department: Advancement Time Period of Report: December 2024

Focus Activity: The Library Market Calendar, our new calendar software, experienced a problem with its site hosting platform, Pantheon. There were infrastructure issues which caused the calendar to be unavailable for the day. Unfortunately for us, this was the day registration began for the January – February issue of the Rotunda.

Intended Outcome(s) of Focus Activity: It was up to the PIO team to convey the issue to all Library staff and devise an alternative to online registration. When patrons experienced problems when attempting to register for a program, some information was captured by the site and other info was not. We experienced an elevated number of phone calls from patrons requesting we register them. It was rather chaotic, but would have been no matter what calendar software we used if this issue occurred.

Manager Observations of Activity and Outcomes: A plan was devised to capture in a master list the patron info, program info and coordinate the information to input once the system was fully operational. The plan was a bit exhausting but it worked, and it also impressed upon us the need to continue to empower program registrants to register themselves in the normal environment.

Impact of Activity: This glitch impressed upon us how much smoother it works if patrons register themselves online through the calendar. The new Library Market software is easy to understand and user friendly, so in future editions of the Rotunda, we will put some emphasis on self-registration.

MANAGER'S MONTHLY REPORT

Manager Name and Title: Kristin Charles-Scaringi, Head of Borrower and Technical Services Department: Borrower and Technical Services Time Period of Report: December 2024

Focus Activity: Fully staffing circulation desks at branches, bookmobile, etc.

Intended Outcome(s) of Focus Activity: Provide patrons with reliable customer service

Manager Observations of Activity and Outcomes: Borrower Services: We worked hard to make sure the circulation desks were staffed during the business holiday season and did a good job balancing people's scheduled and unscheduled time off.

Technical Services: We made it through the end-of-year processes and will turn our attention to once again receiving materials and getting them ready for our patrons.

Overall, I've been taking some time to go over my notes from the one-on-one evaluations and coming up with a plan for how the Borrower and Technical Services Department can work effectively and efficiently in 2025. I also spent quite a bit of time getting some of our newspaper subscriptions in order.

Impact of Activity: The Borrower and Technical Services Department continues to work together to make sure our patrons' needs are met at the circulation desk.

MANAGER'S MONTHLY REPORT

Manager Name and Title: John Torres - Head of Youth Services Department: Youth Services Time Period of Report: December 2024

Focus Activity: End of Year programs

Intended Outcome(s) of Focus Activity: Statistics from our Dec programs

Manager Observations of Activity and Outcomes: The YS department has wrapped up a busy 2024 and it was a busy month of December. We finished the month of December with 60 programs (Teen and Children) including 4 of our bigger programs "Baby, it's cold outside", 2 sessions of Gingerbread Houses, and another session of Operation Warm. Our total number of children/teen attendees for December was 873.

Impact of Activity: Even though we were hit with some frigid temperatures, it didn't keep the patrons away from our programs. The YS department is now gearing up for an even busier 2025.

Sexual Harassment Protections

Purpose and Goals

The Poughkeepsie Public Library District (the "Library District") is committed to maintaining a workplace free from harassment and discrimination. Sexual harassment is a form of workplace discrimination that subjects an employee to inferior conditions of employment due to their gender, gender identity, gender expression (perceived or actual), and/or sexual orientation. Under the New York State Human Rights Law, it is illegal to discriminate based on sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, age, race, creed, color, national origin, military status, disability, pre-disposing genetic characteristics, familial status, marital status, criminal history, or status as a victim of domestic violence as well as pregnancy or pregnancy-related conditions. While this policy is focused on sexual harassment and gender discrimination, the methods for reporting and investigating discrimination based on other protected identities are the same. All employees, managers, and supervisors are required to work in a manner designed to prevent sexual harassment and discrimination in the workplace.

Sexual Harassment and Discrimination Prevention Policy

- 1. The Library District's policy applies to all employees, applicants for employment, volunteers, and interns, whether paid or unpaid. The policy also applies to additional covered individuals. It applies to anyone who is (or is employed by) a contractor, subcontractor, vendor, consultant, or anyone providing services in our workplace. These individuals include persons commonly referred to as independent contractors, gig workers, and temporary workers. Also included are persons providing equipment repair, cleaning services, or any other services through a contract with the Library District. For the remainder of this policy, we will use the term "covered individual" to refer to these individuals who are not direct employees of the Library District.
- 2. Sexual harassment is unacceptable. Any employee or covered individual who engages in sexual harassment, discrimination, or retaliation will be subject to action, including appropriate discipline for employees. In New York, harassment does not need to be severe or pervasive to be illegal. Employees and covered individuals should not feel discouraged from reporting harassment because they do not believe it is bad enough, or conversely because they do not want to see a colleague fired over less severe behavior. Just as harassment can happen in different degrees, potential discipline for engaging in sexual harassment will depend on the degree of harassment and might include education and counseling. It may lead to suspension or termination when appropriate.
- 3. Retaliation is prohibited. Any employee or covered individual that reports an incident of sexual harassment or discrimination, provides information, or otherwise assists in any investigation of a sexual harassment or discrimination complaint is protected from retaliation. No one should fear reporting sexual harassment if they believe it has occurred. So long as a person reasonably believes that they have witnessed or experienced such behavior, they are protected from retaliation. Any employee of the Library District who retaliates against anyone involved in a sexual harassment or discrimination investigation will face disciplinary action, up to and including termination. All employees and covered individuals working in the workplace who believe they have been subject to such retaliation should inform a supervisor, manager, or Human Resources. All employees and covered individuals who believe they have been a target of such retaliation may also seek relief from government agencies, as explained below in the section on Legal Protections.

- 4. Discrimination of any kind, including sexual harassment, is a violation of our policies, is unlawful, and may subject the Library District to liability for the harm experienced by targets of discrimination. Harassers may also be individually subject to liability and employers or supervisors who fail to report or act on harassment may be liable for aiding and abetting such behavior. Employees at every level who engage in harassment or discrimination, including managers and supervisors who engage in harassment or discrimination or who allow such behavior to continue, will be penalized for such misconduct.
- 5. The Library District will conduct a prompt, thorough and impartial investigation. An investigation will happen whenever management receives a good-faith complaint about discrimination or sexual harassment, or when it otherwise knows of possible discrimination or sexual harassment occurring. The Library District will keep the investigation confidential to the extent possible. If an investigation ends with the finding that discrimination or sexual harassment occurred, the Library District will act as required. In addition to any required discipline, the Library District will also take steps to ensure a safe work environment for the employee(s) who experienced the discrimination or harassment. All employees, including managers and supervisors, are required to cooperate with any internal investigation of discrimination or sexual harassment.
- 6. All employees and covered individuals are encouraged to report any harassment or behaviors that violate this policy. All employees will have access to a complaint form to report harassment and file complaints. Use of this form is not required. For anyone who would rather make a complaint verbally, or by email, these complaints will be treated with equal priority. An employee or covered individual who prefers not to report harassment to their manager or employer may instead report harassment to the New York State Division of Human Rights and/or the United States Equal Employment Opportunity Commission. Complaints may be made to both the employer and a government agency. Managers and supervisors are required to report any complaint that they receive, or any harassment that they observe or become aware of, to Human Resources.
- 7. This policy applies to all employees, volunteers, and covered individuals, such as contractors, subcontractors, vendors, consultants, or anyone providing services in the workplace, and all must follow and uphold this policy. This policy must be provided to all employees and volunteers in person or digitally through email upon hiring and will be posted prominently in all work locations. Training on sexual harassment prevention shall be given to all employees on an annual basis. Such training shall be consistent with New York and federal law and regulations.

What Is Sexual Harassment?

Sexual harassment is a form of gender-based discrimination that is unlawful under federal, state, and (where applicable) local law. Sexual harassment includes harassment on the basis of sex, sexual orientation, self-identified or perceived sex, gender expression, gender identity, and the status of being transgender. Sexual harassment is not limited to sexual contact, touching, or expressions of a sexually suggestive nature. Sexual harassment includes all forms of gender discrimination including gender role stereotyping and treating employees differently because of their gender.

Sexual harassment is unlawful when it subjects an individual to inferior terms, conditions, or privileges of employment. Harassment does not need to be severe or pervasive to be illegal. It can be any harassing behavior that rises above petty slights or trivial inconveniences. Whether harassing conduct is considered petty or trivial is to be viewed from the standpoint of a reasonable victim of discrimination with the same protected characteristics. Generally, any behavior in which an employee or covered individual is treated worse because of their gender (perceived or actual), sexual orientation, or gender expression is considered a violation of the Library District's policy. The intent of the behavior, for example, making a joke, does not neutralize a harassment claim. Not intending to harass is not a defense. The impact of the behavior on a person is what counts. Sexual harassment includes any unwelcome conduct which is either directed at an individual because of that individual's gender identity or expression (perceived or actual), or is of a sexual nature when:

- The purpose or effect of this behavior unreasonably interferes with an individual's work performance or creates an intimidating, hostile or offensive work environment. The impacted person does not need to be the intended target of the sexual harassment;
- Employment depends implicitly or explicitly on accepting such unwelcome behavior; or
- Decisions regarding an individual's employment are based on an individual's acceptance to or rejection of such behavior. Such decisions can include what shifts and how many hours an employee might work, project assignments, as well as salary and promotion decisions.

There are two main types of sexual harassment:

- Behaviors that contribute to a hostile work environment include, but are not limited to, words, signs, jokes, pranks, intimidation, or physical violence which are of a sexual nature, or which are directed at an individual because of that individual's sex, gender identity, or gender expression. Sexual harassment also consists of any unwanted verbal or physical advances, sexually explicit, derogatory, or discriminatory statements which an employee finds offensive or objectionable, causes an employee discomfort or humiliation, or interferes with the employee's job performance.
- Sexual harassment also occurs when a person in authority tries to trade job benefits for sexual favors. This can include hiring, promotion, continued employment or any other terms, conditions, or privileges of employment. This is also called quid pro quo harassment.

Any employee or covered individual who feels harassed is encouraged to report the behavior so that any violation of this policy can be corrected promptly. Any harassing conduct, even a single incident, can be discrimination and is covered by this policy.

Examples of Sexual Harassment

The following describes some of the types of acts that may be unlawful sexual harassment and that are strictly prohibited. This list is just a sample of behaviors and should not be considered exhaustive. Any employee who believes they have experienced sexual harassment, even if it does not appear on this list, should feel encouraged to report it:

- Physical acts of a sexual nature, such as:
 - Touching, pinching, patting, kissing, hugging, grabbing, brushing against another employee's body, or poking another employee's body; or
 - Rape, sexual battery, molestation, or attempts to commit these assaults, which may be considered criminal conduct outside the scope of this policy (please contact local law enforcement if you wish to pursue criminal charges).
- Unwanted sexual comments, advances, or propositions, such as:
 - Requests for sexual favors accompanied by implied or overt threats concerning the target's job performance evaluation, a promotion, or other job benefits;
- This can include sexual advances/pressure placed on a service industry employee by customers or clients, especially those industries where hospitality and tips are essential to the customer/employee relationship;
 - o Subtle or obvious pressure for unwelcome sexual activities; or
 - Repeated requests for dates or romantic gestures, including gift-giving.
- Sexually oriented gestures, noises, remarks or jokes, or questions and comments about a person's sexuality, sexual experience, or romantic history which create a hostile work environment. This is not limited to interactions in person. Remarks made over virtual platforms and in messaging apps when employees are working remotely can create a similarly hostile work environment.
- Sex stereotyping, which occurs when someone's conduct or personality traits are judged based on other people's ideas or perceptions about how individuals of a particular sex should act or look:
 - Remarks regarding an employee's gender expression, such as wearing a garment typically associated with a different gender identity; or
 - Asking employees to take on traditionally gendered roles, such as asking a woman to serve meeting refreshments when it is not part of, or appropriate to, her job duties.
- Sexual or discriminatory displays or publications anywhere in the workplace, such as:
 - Displaying pictures, posters, calendars, graffiti, objects, promotional material, or other materials that are sexually demeaning or pornographic. This includes such sexual displays on workplace computers or cell phones and sharing such displays while in the workplace;
 - This also extends to the virtual or remote workspace and can include having such materials visible in the background of one's home during a virtual meeting.
- Hostile actions taken against an individual because of that individual's sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, or gender expression, such as:

- Interfering with, destroying, or damaging a person's workstation, tools or equipment, or otherwise interfering with the individual's ability to perform the job;
- Sabotaging an individual's work;
- Bullying, yelling, or name-calling;
- Intentional misuse of an individual's preferred pronouns; or
- o Creating different expectations for individuals based on their perceived identities:
 - Dress codes that place more emphasis on women's attire;
 - Leaving parents/caregivers out of meetings.

Who Can be a Target of Sexual Harassment?

Sexual harassment can occur between any individuals, regardless of their sex or gender. New York Law protects employees and all covered individuals described earlier in the policy.

Where Can Sexual Harassment Occur?

Unlawful sexual harassment is not limited to the physical workplace itself. It can occur while employees are traveling for business or at employer or industry sponsored events or parties. Calls, texts, emails, and social media usage by employees or covered individuals can constitute unlawful workplace harassment, even if they occur away from the workplace premises, on personal devices, or during non-work hours.

Sexual harassment can occur when employees are working remotely from home as well. Harassment can happen on virtual meeting platforms, in messaging apps, and after working hours between personal cell phones.

Retaliation

Retaliation is unlawful and is any action by an employer or supervisor that punishes an individual upon learning of a harassment claim, that seeks to discourage a worker or covered individual from making a formal complaint or supporting a sexual harassment or discrimination claim, or that punishes those who have come forward. These actions need not be job-related or occur in the workplace to constitute unlawful retaliation. For example, threats of physical violence outside of work hours or disparaging someone on social media would be covered as retaliation under this policy so long as undertaken because of engagement in a protected activity.

Examples of retaliation may include, but are not limited to:

- Demotion, termination, denying accommodations, reduced hours, or the assignment of less desirable shifts;
- Publicly releasing personnel files;
- Refusing to provide a reference or providing an unwarranted negative reference;
- Labeling an employee as "difficult" and excluding them from projects to avoid "drama";
- Undermining an individual's immigration status; or
- Reducing work responsibilities, passing over for a promotion, or moving an individual's desk to a less desirable office location.

Such retaliation is unlawful under federal, state, and (where applicable) local law. The New York State Human Rights Law protects any individual who has engaged in "protected activity." Protected activity occurs when a person has:

- Made a complaint of sexual harassment or discrimination, either internally or with any government agency;
- Testified or assisted in a proceeding involving sexual harassment or discrimination under the Human Rights Law or any other anti-discrimination law;
- Opposed sexual harassment or discrimination by making a verbal or informal complaint to management, or by simply informing a supervisor or manager of suspected harassment;
- Reported that another employee has been sexually harassed or discriminated against; or
- Encouraged a fellow employee to report harassment.

Even if the alleged harassment does not turn out to rise to the level of a violation of law, the individual is protected from retaliation if the person had a good faith belief that the practices were unlawful. However, the retaliation provision is not intended to protect persons making intentionally false charges of harassment.

Reporting Sexual Harassment

Everyone must work toward preventing sexual harassment, but leadership matters. Supervisors and managers have a legal responsibility to make sure employees feel safe at work and that workplaces are free from harassment and discrimination. Any employee or covered individual is encouraged to report harassing or discriminatory behavior to the Library Director, a supervisor or Human Resources. Anyone who witnesses or becomes aware of potential instances of sexual harassment should report such behavior to the Library Director, a supervisor, or Human Resources.

Reports of sexual harassment may be made verbally or in writing. A written complaint form is attached to this policy if an employee would like to use it, but the complaint form is not required. Employees who are reporting sexual harassment on behalf of other employees may use the complaint form and should note that it is on another employee's behalf. A verbal or otherwise written complaint (such as an email) on behalf of oneself or another employee is also acceptable.

Employees and covered individuals who believe they have been a target of sexual harassment may at any time seek assistance in additional available forums, as explained below in the section on Legal Protections.

Supervisory Responsibilities

Supervisors and managers have a responsibility to prevent sexual harassment and discrimination. All supervisors and managers who receive a complaint or information about suspected sexual harassment, observe what may be sexually harassing or discriminatory behavior, or for any reason suspect that sexual harassment or discrimination is occurring, are required to report such suspected sexual harassment to the Library Director or designee. Managers and supervisors should not be passive and wait for an employee to make a claim of harassment. If they observe such behavior, they must act.

Supervisors and managers can be disciplined if they engage in sexually harassing or discriminatory behavior themselves. Supervisors and managers can also be disciplined for failing to report suspected sexual harassment or allowing sexual harassment to continue after they know about it.

Supervisors and managers may also be subject to discipline for engaging in any retaliation.

While supervisors and managers have a responsibility to report harassment and discrimination, supervisors and managers must be mindful of the impact that harassment and a subsequent investigation has on victims. Being identified as a possible victim of harassment and questioned about harassment and discrimination can be intimidating, uncomfortable and re-traumatizing for individuals. Supervisors, managers, and/or Human Resources will work individuals who have experienced harassment to ensure the workplace is safe, supportive, and free from retaliation for them during and after any investigation.

Complaints and Investigations of Sexual Harassment

All complaints or information about sexual harassment will be investigated, whether that information was reported in verbal or written form. An investigation of any complaint, information, or knowledge of suspected sexual harassment will be prompt, thorough and impartial. The investigation will be kept confidential to the extent possible. Any employee may be required to cooperate as needed in an investigation of suspected sexual harassment.

While the process may vary from case to case, investigations will be generally done in accordance with the following steps. Upon receipt of a complaint, the Library Director or designee:

- Will conduct a prompt review of the allegations, assess the appropriate scope of the investigation, and take any interim actions (for example, instructing the individual(s) about whom the complaint was made to refrain from communications with the individual(s) who reported the harassment), as appropriate. If complaint is verbal, request that the individual completes the complaint form in writing. If the person reporting prefers not to fill out the form, the Library Director or designee will prepare a complaint form or equivalent documentation based on the verbal reporting;
- Will take steps to obtain, review, and preserve documents sufficient to assess the allegations, including documents, emails or phone records that may be relevant to the investigation. The Library Director or designee will consider and implement appropriate document request, review, and preservation measures, including for electronic communications;
- 3. Will seek to interview all parties involved, including any relevant witnesses;
- 4. Will create a written documentation of the investigation (such as a letter, memo or email), which contains the following:
 - a. A list of all documents reviewed, along with a detailed summary of relevant documents;
 - b. A list of names of those interviewed, along with a detailed summary of their statements;
 - c. A timeline of events;

- d. A summary of any prior relevant incidents disclosed in the investigation, reported or unreported; and
- e. The basis for the decision and final resolution of the complaint, together with any corrective action(s).
- 5. Will keep the written documentation and associated documents in a secure and confidential location;
- 6. Will promptly notify the individual(s) who reported the harassment and the individual(s) about whom the complaint was made that the investigation has been completed and implement any corrective actions identified in the written document; and
- 7. Will inform the individual(s) who made the complaint of their right to file a complaint or charge externally as outlined in the next section.

Legal Protections and External Remedies

Sexual harassment is not only prohibited by the Library District, but it is also prohibited by state, federal, and, where applicable, local law.

The internal process outlined in the policy above is one way for employees to report sexual harassment. Employees and covered individuals may also choose to pursue legal remedies with the following governmental entities. While a private attorney is not required to file a complaint with a governmental agency, you may also seek the legal advice of an attorney.

1. New York State Division of Human Rights (DHR)

The Human Rights Law (HRL), codified as N.Y. Executive Law, art. 15, § 290 et seq., applies to employers in New York State with regard to discrimination and harassment, and protects employees, paid or unpaid interns and non-employees regardless of immigration status. A complaint alleging violation of the Human Rights Law may be filed either with DHR or in New York State Supreme Court.

DHR's main office contact information is: NYS Division of Human Rights, One Fordham Plaza, Fourth Floor, Bronx, New York 10458, (718) 741-8400, www.dhr.ny.gov.

Contact DHR at (888) 392-3644 or visit dhr.ny.gov/complaint for more information about filing a complaint. The website has a complaint form that can be downloaded, filled out, notarized and mailed to DHR.

2. (2) United States Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC)

The EEOC enforces federal anti-discrimination laws, including Title VII of the 1964 federal Civil Rights Act (codified as 42 U.S.C. § 2000e et seq.).

If an employee believes that they have been discriminated against at work, they can file a "Charge of Discrimination" with the EEOC. The EEOC has district, area, and field offices where complaints can be filed. Contact the EEOC by calling 1-800-669-4000 (1-800- 669-6820 (TTY)), visiting their website at https://www.eeoc.gov/ or via email at info@eeoc.gov.

If an individual filed an administrative complaint with DHR, DHR will file the complaint with the EEOC to preserve the right to proceed in federal court.

3. (3) Local Protections

Many localities enforce laws protecting individuals from harassment and discrimination. An individual should contact the county, city or town in which they live to find out if such a law exists.
